

Good Vibrations - Reporting Safeguarding Issues

All facilitators, staff, and trustees must be trained in Safeguarding every two years. They must also read and familiarise themselves with the Good Vibrations Safeguarding policy.

If you are worried a child, young person or adult at risk has been abused because:

- you have seen something.
- someone says they have been abused.
- somebody else has told you they are concerned
- there has been an allegation against a colleague.
- there has been an anonymous allegation.
- an adult has disclosed that they were abused as a child
- a child, young person or adult say they are abusing someone else

Record all conversations immediately. Include Record the date/time and location. Include your name and job role

- Talk to the Lead or Deputy for Safeguarding without delay. If they are implicated:
  - then report to Chair of Trustees

The Lead, Deputy or Additional Senior Lead should refer the concern to the relevant adult or children's social care service and/or the Police and follow up the referral in writing within 24 hours.

Under "whistle blowing", anyone can refer directly to the police or social care services and all relevant Authorities, when they are concerned the organisation is not managing safeguarding concerns appropriately.

When the concern is about the welfare of a child or adult at risk from schools, colleges, health providers, GP practices, prisons or social care settings, you should refer to that organisation's Lead for Safeguarding in the first instance. Inform the Lead or Deputy that you have referred a concern.

Any consultations should not delay a referral.
